Foreign language study

In full-time studies:

- 240 hours of one foreign language (60 hours per semester, from the 2nd to the 5th semester).

In part-time studies:

- 64 hours of one foreign language in the 2nd and 3rd semester.

Study completion requirement

You create a major project that addresses a practical or theoretical problem related to your field of study. By studying literature and conducting your own analyses, you work on an original problem-solving proposal. Everything you learn during your studies enables you to create a professional project based on real data and actions. To earn your bachelor's degree, you must defend this project before a committee. You set the direction of your own project

Internships and practical training

Student internships are an important part of the study program. Students of bachelor's and long-cycle master's studies complete 960 hours of internships (24 weeks), gaining professional experience. If you work in a profession related to your field of study, you can have your internship credited based on your employment. During your studies, you also have the opportunity to take a paid internship. Internship programs are designed by cooperating employers, tailoring requirements to specific positions, which helps you take your first professional steps.
