Form: Full-time

Study form: Traditional (on-site)

Features: Bachelor's degree • From October • English

City: Toruń

What will you learn?

- You will learn to analyze financial and economic phenomena, helping you understand how money works in companies and on the market—highly practical knowledge for real life.
- You will discover how to assess company assets, enabling you to better manage risk and profits—a skill valuable for both employment and your own business.
- You will find out how to launch your own business, from idea to first invoices—practice, not just theory. Perfect for those with a startup spirit.
- You will use modern tools and software that are standard in today's business—not learning from outdated textbooks.
- You will have access to internships and study visits at top employers—real-world experience that you can put on your CV before even finishing your studies.
- Classes are taught by practitioners from banks, businesses, and public offices, so you learn from people who actually do what they teach.

Work opportunities

- You can start working in the accounting department of a company or corporation, where you will handle documentation, cost records, and balance sheet preparation.
- Find your place in banks and financial institutions, applying knowledge in financial data analysis, loans, investments, and customer service.
- There are opportunities to work in tax offices or public administration, using your skills in public finance and taxation.
- You can work in auditing firms or accounting offices, analyzing documents, preparing reports, and supporting company control activities.
- Your knowledge enables you to open your own accounting practice or consulting business, offering services in finance, taxes, and management.
- You can also thrive in financial analysis and controlling departments, preparing data that supports key strategic decisions within companies.

Foreign language study

For full-time studies:

- 152 hours of one foreign language (38 hours per semester, from the 3rd to the 6th semester).

For part-time studies:

- 128 hours of one foreign language (32 hours per semester, from the 3rd to the 6th semester).

Study completion requirements

You create a major project that addresses a practical or theoretical problem related to your field of study. By studying literature and conducting your own analyses, you work on an original problem-solving proposal. Everything you learn during your studies enables you to create a professional project based on real data and actions. To earn your bachelor's degree, you must defend this project before a committee. You set the direction of your own project!

Internships and practical training

Student internships are an important part of the study program. Students of bachelor's and long-cycle master's studies complete 960 hours of internships (24 weeks), gaining professional experience. If you work in a profession related to your field of study, you can have your internship credited based on your employment. During your studies, you also have the opportunity to take a paid internship. Internship programs are designed by cooperating employers, tailoring requirements to specific positions, which helps you take your first professional steps.
